

Is There Room in the Castle for Three?

NEW YORK: Preparations are in full swing to welcome a baby... when a dragon moves in again! In this sequel to the award-winning When a Dragon Moves In, the boy and his dragon dedicate themselves to entertaining the infant – bowling with bottles and zooming around like an airplane. But when the dragon is charmed by that drooling, crying little kid, the boy decides he's had enough of this baby business.

Adults may see the dragon as the boy's alter ego, but children will simply adore this fantastic, though perhaps invisible, friend.

Moore's story blurs the line between fantasy and reality, embracing the ups-and-downs that often accompany a new arrival. McWilliam's masterful illustrations capture the vibrant household and the equally vibrant emotions shared by the boy and his devoted dragon.

When a Dragon Moves In Again is a mischief-filled, moving look at becoming a big brother that will delight dragon-loving kids of all ages. Is there room in the castle for three? Find out... When a Dragon Moves In Again.

Praise for When a Dragon Moves In:

"The deadpan text is sure to elicit giggles as it captures the conundrum of an imaginary friend with a child's eye and provides a gentle acceptance of the mild misbehavior that sometimes accompanies imaginative play." —Kirkus Reviews

"...Moore has a light, sure touch, and she gives McWilliam plenty of room to exercise his considerable gifts for operatic expressiveness and expertly choreographed physical humor." —Publishers Weekly

★ Whitney & Scott Cardozo Award for Children's Literature, Georgia Children's Book Award, Indie Next Kids' Pick, ABC Best of Books Catalog pick, Scholastic Book Club Selection, Charter Oak Connecticut Children's Book Award, Wyoming READS selection

Jodi Moore is the author of When a Dragon Moves In. She lives in Boalsburg, PA. Howard McWilliam is the illustrator of When a Dragon Moves In and I Need My Monster. He is the cover artist of The Week (US and UK), and his art appears regularly in The Telegraph (London). He lives in Cheltenham, England.

When a Dragon Moves In Again

Written by Jodi Moore, Illustrated by Howard McWilliam

September 2015, ages 4–8, hardcover, 32 color pages, ISBN 978-1-9362613-5-2 $17.95 US/CAN Distributed by IPG, www.ipgbook.com, available at bookstores everywhere.